

SYNOPSIS

It's midwinter. Five youngsters are heading for the Jotunheimen mountain area to go snowboarding. On the slope, one of them has a bad fall and breaks a leg. There is no sign of any other people around, and their mobile phones are out of range. They catch sight of a mountain hotel in the distance, and decide to find shelter there. The hotel lies empty and silent, obviously closed down years ago. The phone lines are dead, and the youngsters realize they have to spend the night in the hotel. But it turns out they're not alone. In the basement they discover a filthy dungeon of a room, where somebody has recently lived...

SYNOPSIS

During the winter in 2006 four youth faced a brutal death in the Norwegian mountains of Jotunheimen. Only one woman survived Frozen and weak she struggles to get back to civilization. A blod-covered Jannicke is brought in at the local hospital When she slowly awakes in her bed the hospital is dark and silent without a living sole around. She steps out in the corridors... Is the nightmare not over?

SYNOPSIS

Jotunheimen, 1976. After a series of suspicious events, the Stehøe mountain hotel goes bankrupt. Convinced their son is involved, his parents lock him away, until one day, he vanishes. The official story: the boy fell into a crevasse, and his parents died in an avalanche while searching for him. Ten years later, the case still haunts the investigating officer. Now he's returning to the mountain with six young companions, unaware they're about to be drawn into a chilling mystery with horrifying consequences.